Silhouettes (from left to right):

- A man in a suit carrying a briefcase.
- A woman in a dress carrying a handbag.
- A person wearing a cap and holding a telephone receiver to their ear.
- A person carrying a long-handled tool, possibly a wrench or screwdriver.
- A person wearing a hat and carrying a briefcase.
- A person in a suit carrying a briefcase.
- A person walking while holding a small child's hand.
- A person wearing a hat and carrying a tool, possibly a saw or hammer.

Newspaper Columns (Job Listings):

The background consists of several columns of text from a newspaper's classified section. Legible titles and snippets include:

- TECHNICIAN: "I am in the market of work..."
- DRIVER: "Experienced driver..."
- COOKING: "Experienced cook..."
- EXPERIENCE: "Extensive business service..."
- CONSTRUCTION: "Experienced construction worker..."
- CHEF: "Experienced chef..."
- TEACHER: "Experienced teacher..."
- DOCTOR: "Experienced physician..."
- NURSE: "Experienced nurse..."
- PARENT: "Experienced parent..."
- CRAFTSMAN: "Experienced craftsman..."

The overall theme of the advertisement is the search for employment across various fields.
